When it comes time for him to pay the two million roubles, he is so attached to his dwindling capital that he is actually contemplating murdering the prisoner to get out of paying him for enduring fifteen years of solitary confinement. Read the study guide: From his wing day and night came the sound of the piano. At the table a man unlike ordinary people was sitting motionless. I have watched from there the lightning flashing over my head and cleaving the storm-clouds.

On my part, it was the caprice of a well-fed man; on the lawyer's pure greed of gold. I I T was a dark autumn night.
